

EVANS SCHOOL ANNUAL SNAPSHOT

JANUARY–DECEMBER 2021

EVANS SCHOOL
UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON

EVANS.UW.EDU

During this critical time for the future of our nation and our democracy, the Evans School set out on a bold journey with a new mission, vision, articulation of collective values, and one purpose: to democratize public policy and inspire public service. Bridging the gap between our public service legacy and our vision for the future, we hold an aspiration and a commitment to become an anti-racist institution of public policy and management. Ranked #4 overall and #2 among public universities by U.S. News & World Report, we are using our position to build a necessary engine for change. In this report you will find evidence of the groundwork that underpins this work. We intend to mobilize and direct resources toward more equitable and inclusive policy and – in partnership with our broader community – strengthen the systems that build our democracy.

Thank you for being part of the Evans School community, and helping us to propel this important work forward.

Jodi R. Sandfort
Dean & Professor

MISSION

The Evans School of Public Policy & Governance educates leaders, generates knowledge, and hosts communities to co-create solutions to pressing societal problems.

VISION

We envision inclusively built societies powered by collective wisdom, brave leadership, and rigorous action.

VALUES

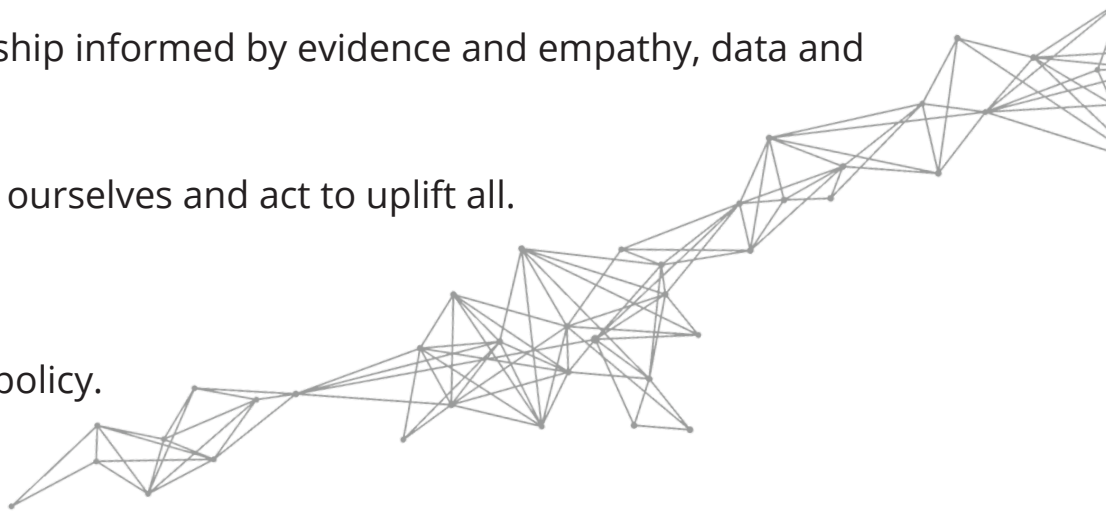

Equity. We commit to discovering and daylighting disparities, taking anti-racist action, and dismantling systems of oppression.

Courage. We stand for policy and practice leadership informed by evidence and empathy, data and compassion, head and heart.

Service. We have a responsibility to think beyond ourselves and act to uplift all.

PURPOSE

To inspire public service and democratize public policy.
